M'GREGOR ONCE MORE

Arguments For a New Trial Being Made.

ALMA WALTERS' AFFIDAVIT

What the Principal Witness Said Under Oath—Some Letters—Other Statements Made—No One Hazards An Opinion As To the Result.

Special to the News Review.

Lisbon, Dec. 29.—There was great activity among the attorneys in the McGregor case when Charles Rose was being sentenced this morning, and all was ready for hearing the motion for a new trial when Judge Billingsley was ready to begin.

McGregor was brought into the room, and looked as though he had been working on a farm instead of languishing in a prison, but there was a nervousness about his manner which betokened anxiety although he nodded familiarly to his father, and to Mr. and Mrs. Shultz, who occupied seats within the railing. All the attorneys who took part in the trial were at their respective tables, Mr.
Anderson occupying a part of the time in conversing with Mr. Smith, while the keen eyes of Mr. Carey rested for a moment on the prisoner, and then settled on the court. The first move was made when the state placed a number of affidavits in the hands of the court, and the counsel for the defense moved that they be stricken out. This the court refused and while the papers were being carefully examined Prosecutor Speaker talked in a low tone with McGregor, and it was evident that an effort was being made to keep the contents of all affidavits from the public.

The affidavit of Alma Walters says that on June 18, 1894, she received word that P. M. Smith, attorney for the defense, wanted to see her at the court house, and upon going there she met him. He gave her $5 in money according to the affidavit, and afterward in the fore part of the following week she met P. M. Smith at the postoffice in Wellsville and he requested her to call at his office. In compliance with his wish she called that same day, and a brief conversation took place between them. At the time of deponent leaving said P. M. Smith gave her $2 in money, and requested her to call the next day which she did. Then and there she again met Mr. Smith, and then gave her $5, and requested her to leave Wellsville, and go to Pittsburg; after that she went there at his request.
He and Charles Shultz called on her, and requested her to call at the Shultz residence, which she did within a day or two after the request was made. There she met Charles Shultz and his wife, a sister of the defendant, and Mrs. Shultz handed her a statement in writing signed by Jesse McGregor. She is familiar with the handwriting of Jesse McGregor, having seen him write and received messages from him. The affidavit then says that the statement presented to the deponent by Mrs. Shultz embodied a full statement of the deponent's knowledge, covering the position and condition of the body of Lizzie Ewing when living upon the porch in the rear of Mc-Gregor's house, as well as embracing a statement of her knowledge as to the burial of the body, except that portion referring to the cutting up of the body, the bloody towels, and the burning of false teeth, which she (Mrs. Shultz) had arranged from said statement. After reading the statement Mrs. Shultz asked the deponent whether Jesse had told the truth, and she replied that, with the exception of the burning of the bloody towels, the false teeth and the cutting up of the body, it was all right. Whereupon Mrs. Shultz laughed and said that she had erased that part from the statement, believing that deponent had forgotten it. While on that visit to the Shultz house the deponent says Mrs. Shultz gave her $10, and said she would give her that amount every month until the trial came off, at which time she was to have $150 if she told nothing about the towels, teeth and cutting up of the body. Mr. Shultz was present, and told deponent that when he would send money he would sign the name of George Brookes to his letters. To the affidavit are attached a number of letters in one of which Mrs.
Shultz wanted Alma Walters to swear that McGregor asked for a doctor and Morrison told her to get one. Also that Mrs. Shultz asked Alma to return her letters, which she did after making copies of them, which were filed and made a part of the affidavit.
Alma Walters says she wrote Mrs.
Shultz asking for the statement written by McGregor, and learned that it had been destroyed.

The affidavit from James Ewing, at one time husband of the dead woman, says that he heard McGregor had killed Lizzie, and he wrote to Prosecutor Speaker telling him he would be a witness at the trial if he could do the prosecution any good. He said that McGregor once told him in the Commercial house that he had thrown a man over a balcony in Pittsburg, and when he went down to see him found him dead. He put his handkerchief with blood on it in his pocket and fled, and for fear he would be caught with it in his possession he threw it out of the car window. He was pursued, arrested and placed on trial, and cleared by proving an alibi secured by perjured testimony. He secured it by paying certain parties, one of whom was a river pilot, to swear that he was at another place when the accident happened.

There are 14 affidavits in all, and after they were received by the court an adjournment was made until afternoon. The case is now being argued, and will likely continue through the afternoon.

NINETY DAYS.

The Sentence Imposed on Charles Rose
This Morning.

Special to the News Review.

Lisbon, Dec. 29.—When the time arrived for the calling of the McGregor case this morning it was found that the defense was not ready, and in the half hour which Judge Billingsley gave them to prepare he looked after the sentencing of Charles Rose. The prisoner was arraigned, and Attorney Brookes made a strong plea in his behalf. After reviewing the chief points in the case as they have already been given in the News Review, he said that after Charles Rose and Ada Henderson were married they lived happily until the husband discovered that another, and that man his employer, was filling the place he should have occupied. All persuasion on his part failed to produce a good effect, and in a few weeks she left him.
Then she returned, but not to live with her husband. It was to gain possession of her child, and then the shooting occurred. Mr. Brookes stated that his client had informed him that his mind was a blank when the shooting occurred. Charles Rose had lived in East Liverpool for 16 years, and had made for himself the name of a law-abiding citizen, a kind husband, and a loving son. The family was not wealthy, and the fine imposed would have to be paid by the united efforts of father and son. The costs already amounted to $293.

Prosecutor Speaker said that he had no desire to go further than was absolutely necessary, but Mrs. Rose had sworn that the relation between herself and her husband's employer was that of friendship. She knew her husband blamed her with being unduly intimate with this man, but she had stated on oath that he had only taken her to her relatives. As the court well understood, two shots had been fired, and the defendant was seemingly conscious, as he had gone to see his wife with a revolver in his possession.

When the court inquired if the prisoner had any reason why sentence should not be passed Rose answered "No sir," and Judge Billingsley said he had read a number of letters in behalf of the prisoner: "The weapon you used was one which might have caused death. The testimony of your wife proved that she had done serious wrong, but this did not give you grounds for what you undertook to do. It is the sentence of this court that you be confined in the workhouse for 90 days and pay the costs, and unless they are paid you remain there until the debt is cancelled." The prisoner said nothing, and he was removed from the court room.

ADRIFT ON THE RIVER

A Deckhand Floats Down Stream in a Flat.

THE THERMOMETER BELOW ZERO

And 18 Hours Without Food Are Some of the Features in William Varner's Experience—He Lands Opposite East End and Shoots For Hours Before Help Comes—Spends the Night in Jail, But Strikes Luck Today.

If he hadn't been a riverman William Varner might have been dead in the coal flat which lay all of yesterday at the head of Babb's island opposite East End. William is worth more than a dozen dead men yet, but he can tell a story of his adventures which is interesting and shows that he had a thrilling experience. Varner was a deck hand on the steamer Fred Wilson, and when the boat stuck several barges on Phillips, Wednesday night, and lost some, he was in a flat which was twirled around and sent down the stream. The flat was held by only a small rope and it broke in a few minutes after the barges had started. Varner realized that if the boat struck the bank it would sink and he would find himself at the bottom of the river with the 1,500 bushels of coal the flat contained. The barges were landed at Georgetown but the flat in which Varner was an unwilling prisoner drifted on. More by good luck than skillful steering the flat struck the head of Babb's island broadside and remained fast. This was about 2 or 3 o'clock yesterday morning and the intense cold the man endured would have frozen many another person less hardy. When it is remembered that the thermometer was about 7 or 8 degrees below zero it can be imagined what the man was compelled to endure. The pangs of hunger but added to his misery, and as soon as it was light Varner began shouting for help. He continued calling until he was hoarse, and beat upon an old coal shovel in hope that someone would hear him. It was 11:30 o'clock when Joseph McKinnon, who resides on the river bank, heard him, and taking a skiff and going to the island rescued the almost exhausted man. As soon as he was seated before the fire Varner made five cups of coffee disappear with startling rapidity and then announced that he felt better. He was unable to get boarding at East End last night, and so came to the city proper and slept in the jail.

William Varner has been working on the river almost all his life and knows every branch of the business.
He was seen today on the towboat, Sam Brown, which is laying up below the Jutte float at the foot of Market street, this city, and after telling his story said he had never before had such an experience. It was to him like being a second edition of Robinson Crusoe, even to having a Friday and a chilly one at that. The only thing that he craved to satisfy any of his appetites was a good bit of chew of tobacco, but he had none, neither had he a match to build a fire. The gentleman desired the reporter to publicly express his gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon for their never to be forgotten kindness.

The crew of the Brown, including Varner, will leave tonight to spend New Year's at their homes in and about Pittsburg. The boat will lay here until more water comes.

THE PIPES WERE THAWED

But It Came Near Ruining Theodore Bradshaw's House.

The fire department was called to the residence of Theodore Bradshaw at 7:30 this morning, and found that one end of the house was on fire.
No water was used, but the firemen quickly tore aside a portion of the building, and located the flames between the weather boarding and the plastering. In a few minutes the fire was extinguished, and the department went home. The ladder truck was not ordered out, because it would be impossible for it to reach the top of the hill. The fire was caused by an attempt to thaw a frozen water pipe a few minutes before the alarm was given. Mr. Bradshaw feels very grateful to the department for the efficient work and prompt action.

New Year's Reception.

The ladies of the auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian association will keep open house on next Tuesday afternoon. Lunch and hot coffee will be served, and a cordial welcome will be extended to one and all. At night the young ladies of the Drill Brigade will be given a reception by the members of the Young Men's Christian association, assisted by the auxiliary.
A nice program has been arranged, and an exceedingly pleasant time is anticipated. The rooms will be beautifully decorated. The public will receive a warm welcome.

The Trustees Are Busy.

The cold weather has brought out the poor and needy, and the office of the township trustees has been crowded with applicants for aid.
They ask for all sorts of articles, but the chief requisition is fuel. As a rule they do not care whether it is coal or wood, just so it is something to burn. Many applicants are after something to eat, and the trustees have distributed a great many baskets.
Only the worthy are being provided for, as the resources of the trustees are limited, and they have no desire to spend more money than is absolutely necessary to keep the wolf away.

Daniels Went Into the River.

When Thomas Daniels was walking on the ice on his way to work this morning he stepped into a hole and got the coldest bath of the season.
A companion and W. Mercer, of the depot force, witnessed the accident, and hastening to the unfortunate man's aid pulled him from the river. He was brought to this side in a boat, his clothes having frozen stiff in the brief time the party required to cross, but a warm fire and dry clothing soon made him as good as new. Daniels lives on the other side of the river, and works in this city.

In Good Condition.

The Red Men have elected the following officers for the year: Sachem, Lish Reed; S. S., C. J. Martin; Jr. S., Louis Schobel; prophet, George Esenuth; C. of R., William Hall, Jr.; C. of W., Syl Kinsey; K. of W., William G. Miller; representative, Syl Kinsey; alternate, Charles Reark.
The organization is in the best of financial condition, and is expecting a large increase in membership. It is one of the oldest lodges in the city, having passed its twenty-seventh year.

Fought Among Themselves.

A gang of tramps camped on the river bank near the power house last night, and after building a big fire began to quarrel among themselves.
After wrangling for a time they came to blows, and more than one man was knocked down for the part he played in the battle. Persons residing in that part of town say that they are constantly bothered by these vagrants, and the gang who got into the row were around begging yesterday afternoon. They were a hard looking lot.

You Are Mistaken My Boy.

The Salem Herald deviates from the path of truth when it announced yesterday that Ed Snyder was a candidate for sheriff because the friends of Charley Gill had deserted him. The News Review knows nothing of why Snyder is in the field, but it does know that Chief Gill's friends are standing shoulder to shoulder, and will land him in the sheriff's office without any great number of votes to oppose him. Put that in your pipe Mr.
Herald.

Threw Out the Boys.

When a boy named Allison was driving along Second street last night the horse scared at a street car and ran away. Allison and a companion were thrown into the street while the horse ran until it was checked by a light pole at the corner of Sebring's pottery. The horse was not badly hurt, but the sleigh was somewhat broken. A number of minor accidents occurred during the evening.

They Combined Forces.

The Blackmore and D. B. Wood went up the river lashed together this morning, and hauling their tows instead of pushing them according to custom. There was too much ice in the river to permit of the old method, and although the boats were hard pressed when passing the city they were making a desperate effort to keep moving.

More Buyers Next Week.

A great many more buyers are expected here next week, and some salesmen are anxious to see what they will buy as it will be an indication of what trade will be when they get on the road. The association of jobbers which meets in New York is expected to bring more buyers here than any other event in the history of American potteries.

Off the Track.

Street car No. 34 left the rails at the East End switch this morning. As it was a westbound coach no cars were behind it, and instead of transferring, cars were simply run backwards from the scene of the accident. By 1 o'clock a force of workmen had succeeded in placing the car on the track once more.

BEST OF THE SEASON

Was the Y. M. C. A. Concert Last Night.

ALL THE LOCAL FAVORITES

Were There to Keep the Audience In a Good Humor and Make the Entertainment a Notable Occasion—It Was a Number of the Lecture Course.

The concert of the Young Men's Christian association at the Grand last night was well attended, and proved a delightful success.

The first number was the Phoenix chorus, several splendid selections being rendered in rapid succession, followed by Miss Maud L. Smith who sang with rare sweetness. She gracefully responded to an encore, and made way for Miss Anna Junkin, of Wellsville, who delivered a delightful recitation, plainly showing careful training and a marked degree of talent. George Davidson was so well received in "Now He's Sorry That He Spoke" that the audience demanded another bit of music, and he gave "He's Parents Haven't Seen Him Since." Each selection was thunderously applauded, the popularity of the soloist being clearly shown. Mrs. J. E.
Brookes, Miss Florence Elkins, J. E.
Brookes and Mr. Wilson made up a quartet who sang very well, and Miss Sara Cohen was heartily encored.
Professor Henry Shenkle played the "Witches Dance" by Paganini, in such a manner as to entertain the audience, and cause more than one to remark that the talented young man would win honors equal to those of the great composer himself. Miss Dee Andrews, the talented vocalist of Wellsville, delighted the audience with a beautiful selection, and Shenkle's orchestra won new fame by the exceptional merit of the music. "Nightingales" was a solo by Miss Florence Everson, the popular singer of Wellsville, and she had the audience with her from the moment her magnificent voice rang through the room. The duet, "Shall We Meet Again?" was charmingly rendered by the Misses Adams, followed by Miss Bernice Acker, who recited so well as to bring every appreciation which the audience could show. Mrs. C. M.
Dix maintained her excellent reputation as a pianist by one of the best performances of the evening, and Miss Cohen again brought approbation by a beautiful solo.
Edwin McIntosh sang with his usual power, the beauty of the selection being one of the features of the evening, and was followed by Miss Florence Everson, who did as well as when she first appeared.

Taken all in all the entertainment was a delight to the large audience, and the committee deserve credit for their ability in compiling and arranging the program. Particularly should praise be showered upon E. M. Crosser, who has been indefatigable, devoting much of his time for the good of the cause, and deserving the congratulations that are being showered upon him today. Mrs. J. C.
Thompson's illness rendered her unable to appear, much to the disappointment of the audience.

The next number of the lecture course will be the Schubert Male quartette, one of the best singing companies on the stage. It will be heard here on the evening of Feb. 8.

River Notes.

The Iron Queen passed down today with a big trip of freight and passengers.

No great preparations are being made by rivermen for another rise in the river at present.

Several towboats are now on their way from Cincinnati to Pittsburg with empties, but like other boats are being hindered by the crush of ice.

The regular Sunday packets are booked for tomorrow. The Ben Hur, Lizzie Bay, Keystone State and Bedford are due up. The Courier is due down today.

The Bedford passed down last night, but considerably delayed by the immense quantities of ice in the river.
She had a good trip, and succeeded in adding materially to it by taking on both freight and passengers.

Never Satisfied.

A special from Columbus says:
"Marlatt has been confined to his cell in the insane department ever since his attack on the officers, and he will probably remain there until he comes to his senses. He now asks to be released, but all the time he was out he was complaining about being compelled to work. Now he is disgusted with life and every person about the prison because he has too much rest.
Verily, some people are never satisfied with their lot in life."

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF OHIO.

The Canton Repository speaks of "true facts." Did the Repository ever hear of facts that were not true?

STATISTICS recently completed show that crime has such a hold upon Ohio as to bring one out of every 900 persons of the state into court.

If you have new resolutions prepare to make them now, for the season is at hand when they must become operative—for a few days, at least.

The young man who "shook" his best girl before Christmas in order to escape giving her a present, and made up with her the next day, now has the sympathy of his friends, for he must take her sleighing.

IS THE TAX UNCONSTITUTIONAL?

Hon. David A. Wells writes the following in the January number of the Forum:

"If an income tax is laid at the same rate or percentage upon all incomes, there would be no question as to its uniformity and compliance with the constitutional provisions. On the other hand, if such a tax is laid as the present income tax law proposes, with discriminating incidence or with different rates or percentage on different incomes, there would seem to be no ground for assuming that it was invested with uniformity, or was in compliance with the constitutional mandate. Let us suppose, for illustration, three farms designated as A, B, and C, owned by three persons, producing the same products, or the same class of products—wheat, corn, potatoes and the like—and returning a profit or income to their respective owners from the sale of these products under the same competitive conditions. Let us suppose further that the profit or income from the farms A and B is in each case $4,000; while the profit or income from farm C, owing to a greater area of land cultivated, or greater energy and skill on the part of the owner, is $8,000. Under the present discriminating income tax the profits or income of the two farms, A and B, and of two persons under an exemption of $4,000, would be free from all income taxation; while the profit of the competitive farm C, producing the same income as the other two farms, would be subject to a tax burden, on half its income or profit, of two per cent, if, as assumed, the farm happens to be in the hands of a single owner. The aggregate of the value or income of the property is the same in both cases, but the incidence of taxation is made dependent upon the circumstance of making the assessment upon two persons rather than one. This is not equality of burden on competing property, or on immediate competitors, but may fairly be characterized as robbery."

Since the time is almost at hand when the law becomes operative the words of Mr. Wells will be of more than usual interest.

THE POPULISTS' CONFERENCE.

A Number of Resolutions Reported—General Coxey Speaks.

St. Louis, Dec. 29.—The Populist conference has elected General J. W.
Weaver temporary presiding officer, with W. D. Vincent of Kansas and Milton Park of Texas as secretary and assistant secretary.

General J. S. Coxey is present and made a speech on his non-interest bearing bond scheme.

The different states have introduced resolutions as follows:

By Alabama (Deleagat Adams), a resolution requesting the United States senate to elect Senator W. V. Allen of resolution of Dec. 17, 1894, for the appointment of a committee to ascertain whether Alabama's people are living under a republican form of government. Rules suspended and the resolution adopted unanimously.

Arkansas, California, Oregon, Colorado, Georgia, Idaho and Indiana reported progress in the advancement of Populist principles and the spokesman in general remarks insisted upon the conference standing strictly by the Omaha platform.

Illinois' spokesman, Mr. Lord of Chicago, in addition to an insistence upon the principles of the Omaha platform, presented resolutions adopted by the Populist city central committee of Chicago, denouncing the recent imprisonment of E. V. Dels and others in Chicago as an invasion of the right of trial by jury; also a series of resolutions prepared by Hon. Lyman Trumbull of Chicago denouncing the use of regular troops in the Chicago labor disturbances last summer as a military invasion; declaring the use of regular troops a forcing of free men to oppress others in the behalf of monopoly; denouncing the issue of interest-bearing bonds in time of peace; demanding the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and insisting that monopolies bearing upon public rights should be owned and operated by the government.

C. M. B. A. Trustees In Session.

DETROIT, Dec. 29.—The board of supreme trustees of the C. M. B. A. order for the United States and Canada, is in session at the office of M. Brennan, supreme president of the organization.
The full board is in attendance, including Supreme Recorder Hickey of Brooklyn; Rev. P. A. Baart, Marshall, Mich.; William Francis, Buffalo; P. Randol, Cleveland; Rev. M. J. Keon, Bergen, N. Y., and Judge Bulger of Chicago.

Wants to Be a Second Bill Dalton.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Irving McLean, a boy in knickerbockers, was arrested on alighting from a train in Chicago, on a charge of twice robbing the postoffice at his home, Fulton, Wis. When arraigned in court he acknowledged his guilt and stated that his ambition is to emulate Bill Dalton, and lead a band of desperados. The boy was held in the federal custody. He secured no money in the letters which he rifled.

Carnegie Workmen Reduced.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 29.—Workers in the Lawrenceville mills of the Carnegie company have been subjected to cuts just as the Homestead and Braddock workmen were. They are also accepting their cuts as the Homestead and Braddock men are. The cuts in Lawrenceville wages were next to the last on the list of those who were scheduled to have their wages cut. The Beaver Falls men are next.

The Body Ready For Transport.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—The Globe says that the body of Mrs. William Waldorf Astor has been removed from Cliveden preparatory to embarking it at Liverpool on board the Cunard steamship Aurania sailing for New York today.
The casket was sealed in the presence of the officials of the United States embassy and many wreaths were deposited upon it.

Still Guarding the Jail.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 29.—No attack has yet been made on the jail where Wiggins, the negro murderer, whose second victim, Detective Murray, has died, is confined. The authorities are still on the watch, however, and the prison is heavily guarded. It is now feared that Stringer, the other officer wounded by Wiggins, will die.

Blown Off a Bridge.

NORWALK, O., Dec. 29.—Gilbert Jameson, one of Norwalk's oldest residents, while walking across the Lake Shore bridge, at Huron, was blown into the river and drowned. The river has been dragged, but the body has not yet been found. The river has since frozen over.

The Shortage Reaches $70,000.

ROME, N. Y., Dec. 29.—The total shortage of Cashier Bielby and Teller Gillett of the Central National bank increases as the experts continue their investigation of the books. It has now reached an aggregate of $70,000.

MASSILLON MINERS REFUSE.

They Decide Not to Accept the Decision of the Arbitrators.

MASSILLON, O., Dec. 29.—The Massillon miners at their meeting refused to abide by the decision of the board of arbitration, fixing the rate for mining at 60 cents per ton. Resolutions were adopted denouncing the settlement as an outrage upon the miners and favoring a joint meeting of operators and miners at an early date, the mines to remain closed until after such a meeting is held.

A committee consisting of five miners was appointed with Secretary McBride of the National Mine Workers and President Henry Mullens, to confer with the operators. The operators were greatly disappointed at the outcome of the meeting. They say, however, that they will not pay more than 60 cents.
District President Mullens predicts that the operators will yield and that the miners will resume work inside of a week.

AN ARBITRATION BOARD.

It Is Decided on by Pittsburg Miners and Operators.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 29.—The feature of the joint convention of railroad operators and miners yesterday was the attack of Colonel W. P. Rend, the millionaire coal operator from Chicago, on John Burns, M. P.

He objected to his sitting in the meeting, because of his attacks upon American institutions, but was outvoted.
The convention decided on appointing a board of arbitration. The miners named John A. Cairns, Cameron Miller, national organizer and George Wilson, an employee of the Mansfield Coal and Coke company of Carnegie, Pa., as its part of the board. The operators will likely wait until next week to name its members.

To Combine Printing Houses.

AKRON, O., Dec. 29.—It is stated here that there is a project on foot to combine all the larger printing houses of the country. If the deal is consummated many millions of dollars will be involved, the money coming not only from this country, but from Europe.
The information comes from one of the directors of the mammoth Werner printing concern of this city. He stated that the matter would be fully discussed at the annual meeting of the Werner printing company, to be held at Chicago during the early part of January.

Swindling Hotel Proprietors.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Dec. 29.—A man giving his name as Frank Adams and his residence as Philadelphia has been swindling hotel proprietors in this and adjacent towns, by the wholesale.
Adams' scheme was to stop at a hotel and call for a letter addressed to him in care of the proprietor. He would open the letter in the presence of the landlord and at the same time complain of the difficulty in getting banks to cash checks, after which he would hand the checks to the landlord, who would give Adams the cash.

Failed to Forge Himself.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 29.—Ex-District Attorney W. B. Burnett, who is serving a sentence for contempt, and who has several other charges of the same offense pending, appeared before Judge Sage with a written statement for the purpose of purging himself of the contempt. Judge Sage refused to accept the statement as satisfactory, and finally set the case for Jan. 5, saying he did not like to pronounce sentence in holiday week.

He Likely Suicided.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 29.—The coroner's inquest failed to throw any light on the death of Dudley C. Logan here.
The evidence was not considered sufficient to tell who fired the fatal shot, and the killing is still a mystery. The general impression is now that it was a case of suicide, the deceased attempting to make it appear as though he was murdered to make the insurance policies valid. He had $33,000 insurance.

A Dinner Tonight.

BOSTON, Dec. 29.—A very interesting dinner will be held at Parker's this evening, in commemoration of the noble career of Charles Sumner. The committee of arrangements is made up of Senator George F. Hoar, ex-Governor William Claflin, Hon. A. W. Beard, F.
W. Balch and George A. O. Ernst.
Hon. Edward L. Peirce, Sumner's biographer, will be the guest of honor.

Bancroft's Daughter Married.

BOSTON, Dec. 29.—Captain Carl Gustave Flash, an officer of the Swedish navy, has been married to Miss Pauline Bancroft, daughter of J. C. Bancroft, the famous historian.

Miss Pollard to the Front With a Statement.

WON'T ATTACH THE BOX RECEIPTS

Earned by Colonel Breckinridge on His Lecture Tour—She Has Nothing to Do With the Theatrical Profession—Living Quietly in New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Statements have been made that Miss Madeline Pollard intended to go upon the stage and in person, or by an attorney she proposed following Congressman Breckinridge about the country to levy upon the proceeds of his lecture tour just begun. Prompted by this and other statements, Miss Pollard has given out the following statement:

"I have not wanted to make a statement of any kind. I could not see that what I did was of interest to people generally. So I have tried to bear all that has been said of me as part of the punishment for my failure as a woman.
Within the last few days the impression has gone abroad that I am under an assumed name, that I am friendless and not sufficiently provided for, and that I am in Washington today. If ever a woman had friends great and true—men and women—it is I. I will not believe that men refuse to give my brother employment because of my broken life.
Nearly half of America has wanted employment this year.

"I'm not going before the world in any capacity. I have no message to carry. I have asked a question with my life; it cannot be answered in a day.
I have no theatrical friends. I have never been situated so I could have.
Their world is far removed from mine.
I live quietly in a private home with my brother and southern friends. I do not believe there is a man or woman on earth who thinks there is money compensation for sorrow. I am sorry if, for any reason whatsoever, I am accused of realizing so little the enormous sorrow that overshadows my life. I am not under an assumed name. I have not been any place where I was not well known. I do not mean to be while I live. I have stained my dear father's spotless name, and with the Christian power I shall fight from under the stain."

Assumed an International Turn.

TORONTO, Dec. 29.—The disagreement over the fishing seizure in Lake Erie, which took place some weeks ago, has assumed an international turn. Commander Wakeham's report has been forwarded to the home authorities, who will deal with the United States. It is understood that in the Canadian report it is simply proved that the seizure was made in Canadian territory, but the question has become one of fact and not of boundary, as the American fishing firm assign the seizure to an entirely different portion of the lake than that sworn to by the Canadian officers.

Won't Make an Inquiry.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 29.—It now seems definitely settled that United States Minister Alexander Terrill does not intend to send anybody to make an independent inquiry into the stories told of Turkish atrocities in Armenia. The motive of this decision, it is believed, is probably because such an inquiry is not necessary in view of the fact that the powers signatory to the Berlin treaty, particularly England, are supervising the inquiry which is being made on behalf of the Turkish government.

Catholics Not Against Public Schools.

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., Dec. 29.—Bishop W. J. Dalton of Kansas City lectured before the Teacher's association on "The Relation of the Catholic Church to the Public Schools." He denied the Roman church was opposed to public schools or wished to be relieved of the public school tax; nor did they wish to appropriate any of the school funds for parochial schools. He said while his church did not patronize the public schools, it would not detract from their usefulness.

A Noted Horsethief Dead.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 29.—Henry A. Leendon, a noted Maryland and Pennsylvania horsethief, has died in prison. He left a will bequeathing his savings to a minister. Leendon's mode of operating was decidedly novel. He would steal a valuable horse, substitute a broken-down animal and set fire to the barn.
He finally stole a valuable unshod colt and left in its stead an old horse. The finding in the ashes of the animal's shoes led to Leendon's arrest.

Railroad Officials' Narrow Escape.

HASTINGS, Neb., Dec. 29.—The officers' special car Nemea, on the St.
Joseph and Grand Island, was discovered to be on fire at a point about three miles east of Edgar. In the car were Superintendent A. M. Morrey, Division Engineer F. M. Howe, Attorney M. A.
Reed of the railroad and Judge J. B.
Cesena of this city. It is supposed the car caught fire from the heater. The occupants were sound asleep and barely escaped with their lives.

Suing the Western Union.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 29.—Edward Mullen is suing the Western Union Telegraph company for $60,000 damages.
While working as a lineman Mullen was caught by a live wire, and received injuries which it is alleged permanently disabled him.

Had Fire on a Steamship.

GALVESTON, Dec. 29.—The fire on board the British steamship Masonic proved to be more disastrous than was at first expected. One life has been lost and two more are despaired of and the whole cargo of cotton is a total loss.

Lippert Willing to Return.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Wilhelm A.
Lippert, wanted in Cape Colony for extensive forgery committed there in 1889 and 1890, has acknowledged his identity and expressed a willingness to return to the cape and stand trial.

Caution about the Use and Selection of Spectacles

"Persons having normal vision will be able to read this print at a distance of 14 inches from the eye with ease and comfort. Ade will be able to read it at any distance separately. If unable to do so your eyes are defective and they have immediate attention. When the eyes become tired from reading sneezing, or if the letters look blurred and run together, it is a sure indication that lenses are needed. The sound mind in the strong body are of the highest density and have perfectly formed surfaces. Continued use of these lenses will result in defective vision from the constant strain upon the muscles of accommodation to supply the defects in the eyes."

Business Is Better.

Freight Agent Thomas has been noting the improvement in the business of his department this week, and finds that more ware is leaving town and more goods are coming in than during the same period last year. The improvement is equal to 300 per cent over the same week last year, and shows that the department even in the holiday time is doing a lot of work. Business last year was almost suspended at this season.

SHORT SWORDS FOR TWO.

A Story of What Might Have Been Among Old Time Senators.

The late Judge I. Q. C. Lamar possessed a remarkable peculiarity. Unusual excitement seemed to act upon his nerves like an opiate and put him to sleep. This was strongly exemplified after his remarkable verbal encounter with the great New Yorker, Mr. Conkling. Mr. Lamar, after scarfing Mr. Conkling for life, leaving him with burning yet deferential resentment, closed as follows:

"I apologize to the senate for this seeming unparliamentary language" (advancing to the New Yorker and throwing his index finger full in his face), "language that no man, good man, deserves, and no brave man will wear." Immediately Mr. Lamar walked to the cloakroom on the Democratic side, lay down on a sofa, and in three minutes was sleeping as calmly as a babe. There was great excitement. It was believed Mr. Conkling would not submit to the language applied to him, and that, while he probably would not challenge Lamar, being an athlete, he would meet him on the streets and assault him. The late Senator Zeb Vance, a Hercules in stature, who was devoted to Mr. Lamar, without the knowledge of that gentleman or of any other human being, shadowed Mr. Lamar for some days, explaining afterward that if Conkling ever struck Lamar he intended to beat him to death. Mr. Vance, however, did not know what those intimately acquainted with Mr. Lamar knew. In all probability Mr. Lamar could have whipped them both. He prided himself upon his muscle and has often said to the writer, "I believe I am better fitted for a prize fighter than I am for a senator."

It was apprehended by some that Conkling would challenge Mr. Lamar. Conkling was known to be an expert with the short sword. Mr. Lamar said afterward to an intimate friend in discussing the matter, "If Mr. Conkling had sent me a challenge, I should have chosen short swords."

"Why, Mr. Lamar," replied his friend, "Conkling is an expert with the short sword."

"I know that," replied the senator, "but I took some lessons with the short sword myself when I was in Paris the time that I was sent by the Confederacy on a mission to Russia."

"Why, senator," the friend replied, "you have not had a short sword in your hand in 20 years."

"I know that," coolly replied the senator, "but I should have chosen short swords."—New Orleans Picayune.

Toad Superstitions.

Superstitions as to toads having been early inculcated, it has been exceedingly difficult to get rid of them. One remnant of this ancient credulity still exists. It is in regard to the absolute imperishable character of the toad. There are well educated Americans who believe that a toad hops out alive from a slab of stone, though he has been imprisoned there for several millions of years. We give in brief Dr. Buckland's experiments with toads in 1825. He took 12 toads and had the toads put in 12 cells cut in sandstone, and over these he put plates of glass. They were buried in a garden for over a year. When exhumed, they were all dead. Then some were put in porous sandstone, and at the end of a year a few were found "greatly enaciated." When buried for another year, they all died. Toads were included in wood, and they all died. The conclusion is that, deprived of atmosphere or without food, toads must die. If a toad as a tadpole could have entered a crevice in a rock, it might have grown, but would have died in time for want of air and food. This toad nonsense is so irradicable that it is supposable it never can be dissipated.—New York Times.

Didn't Make a Sale.

A Lewiston family, which traces its ancestry back beyond the Revolution, owns an old coat which is supposed to have been worn by a major in the colonial army, and which is stained by his blood. This coat hangs in a showcase in the hall, among other curiosities, and the family have for 50 years pointed to the yellow stain with pride. The other day a peddler came to the door and was left standing in the hall to await the lady's pleasure in seeing him. He sold some kind of infallible soap to remove stains, and seeing the coat and its honored stain he thought to please the owner by removing the discolor.

"You see, madam, that this soap is sure to remove stains of all kinds," he said when she appeared, and he pointed to the coat.

He did not sell any soap there.—Lowiston Journal.

The Word "Boss."

The word "boss," so commonly applied by an inferior to one of higher grade in the United States, is not, as generally supposed, American in its origin. It comes from the Low German and is heard frequently in continental Europe. In Germany one often sees the sign "Schlaf-Baas," which, translated, means the boss of a lodging house.—Hardware.
